CASE STUDIES

CASE STUDY #1 (Student)

My parents used to tell me that it is important that I learn to take care of the house as studies won't matter when I get married. But I am very happy that my parents said "yes"! My favorite Subject is Hindi and I want to keep studying and coming to the Learning Center.

Before joining the Learning Centre, 12-year-old Apseena's typical day started with helping her mother cook food for her elder brother and father. The men would go to labour work on fields owned by others, while Apseena and her mother continued looking into household chores. As her mother often fell ill, most of the times the responsibility fell on Apseena. She even took the cattle to grazing and did much more as compared to a girl in urban communities.

Apseena's brother got a chance to study till class 10th as the family still saw some merit in their son getting basic education. Apseena's elder sister was already married-off at an early age and had never been to school. Considering this when Apseena got an opportunity to study at IIMPACT's Learning Centre she felt really grateful.

It wasn't easy for the teacher to convince Apseena's parents to send her to the LC but fortunately they agreed to enroll her. Coming to the LC has made her more confident and knowledgeable. Her parents now realize how intelligent and sharp she is.

Apseena loves coming to the LC so much that she doesn't mind walking 1-2 km for it. She enjoys studying and wishes to study further.

CASE STUDY #2 (Community)

Jaitooni is a woman with strong beliefs. While this is no way a bad thing, her beliefs cost her daughters a great deal. Some time back Jaitooni, like so many other parents in her village, was adamant about not sending her daughters to school. When some staff members from IIMPACT visited her home, she did not welcome them and asked them to leave. She probably behaved so because her mother always gave a similar reaction when spoken to about girl education.

Despite constant rejection the teacher from IIMPACT Learning Centre did not give up. Once the teacher came with a respected village elder Shabudin who also tried to convince Jaitooni, to send her daughters to the Learning Centre.

After a lot of persuasion Jaitooni agreed. Today, 11-year-old Ayesha and 9-year-old Abida have been enrolled in class 3 and 1 respectively. Watching her daughters evolve Jaitooni now understands the importance of education.
